12. Details of awareness activities planned for the project:

In order to conserve the traditional ways and methods of healing and to protect the genetic pool of medicinal plants it is important to revive the traditional knowledge system and make it a part of the lifestyle of children.

Due to the lack of space growing more than two three medicinal plants in the house is not feasible now; therefore the school and colleges are the next best place for the youth and children to learn.

Conservation of these plants in school and college gardens and proper dissemination of the information related to it amongst the students will lead to interest and awareness generation. Involving them in various activities related to the medicinal plant gardens like upkeep and maintenance of the garden, research on plants etc will help the students to gain knowledge and perspective about the use and benefits of the medicinal plants and reinforcing it from time to time will lead to lifestyle changes amongst them.

- Create awareness amongst youth and students, their families and friends about the values, use, conservation and benefits of the medicinal plants.
- Promote knowledge and provide training for propagating/cultivating locally grown medicinal plants.
- Encourage the cultivation, promotion, preservation and propagation of medicinal and aromatic plants which are useful for traditional medicinal practices – herbal gardens.

Major activity:

- Drawing competition.
- Rally.
- Essay writing.
- Speech/ Debate
- Poster Making
- Best friend of plant award.
